DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. A central housing formed from the unitary piece of metal for eliminating the need for joining multiple pieces of metal, the limitation: "for eliminating the need for joining multiple pieces of metal" is not described in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Duran (6,688,780).

Regarding claims 1, 5, 9 and 16, Duran, figures 2b and 3b, discloses a fiber optic adaptor (220) comprising:

- a central housing (220) formed from a unitary piece of metal (column 5, lines 45-49). The central housing including a first and second latch portions (202

- and 204, respectively) having first and second latch portion side walls, respectively, an internal wall (228) positioned between the first and second latch portions, a first and a second latch cavities (222 and 224, respectively), and an aperture (229) provided through the internal wall;
- a first latch (262) for mating with the first latch cavity which having a first fiber passageway and each side wall including a cantilevered latch arm (264) which mate with the first latch portion; and
 - a second latch (262') including a second fiber passageway, each side wall including a cantilevered latch arm (264') that including an offset finger latch.

Duran discloses the instant claimed invention as described above except for the unitary piece of metal for eliminating the need for joining multiple pieces of metal.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Duran to have the unitary piece of metal for eliminating the need for joining multiple pieces of metal, since it has been held that forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces and put together involves only routine skill in the art. Howard v. Detroit Stove Works, 150 U.S. 164 (1893) for better connection.

Regarding claims 2 and 13, apertures (23) provided through each the side wall of the first and second latch portions, a tooth (266) and another tooth (266') extending outwardly from each the side wall of the first and second latch for engagement with the apertures.

Regarding claims 3 and 14, the first and second latch portions each including two V-shaped rails.

Regarding claims 4 and 15, the first and second latch portions each including a U-shaped guiding structure.

Regarding claims 6 and 10, a flange (266) extending outwardly from the central housing.

Regarding claims 7 and 17, the aperture through the internal wall is generally rectangular shaped.

Regarding claims 8 and 11, the internal wall is aligned and angled relative with the flange.

Regarding claim 12, the first and second fiber passageways are angled relative to the flange.

Regarding claim 18, the features in the method claim are identical to those in the apparatus claim. Therefore, the method alone is not a patentable feature.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

6. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
